

IRRIGATION GETS SUPPORT

Cache, Utah, Box Elder Unanimous.

Citizens Attend Large Meeting at Lawiston; Adopt Resolutions.

Under Arid Land Reclamation Fund Commission Hopes to Achieve Notable Results.

LAND-OWNERS and prominent citizens of northern Cache county have joined willingly and enthusiastically with those of Utah and Box Elder counties in giving organized encouragement to the Greater Utah scheme, the preliminary work of which has been undertaken by the Government upon recommendation of the Utah Arid Land Reclamation Fund commission. A largely attended meeting with this object in view was held Saturday night at Lawiston. The meeting was presided over by William H. Lewis, and representative men from all the northern portion of the Cache valley took active part in the deliberations. The general plan of reclamation was described by Chairman A. F. Doremus of the Utah commission, and he was followed by Attorney F. S. Richards, who talked of the necessity of the farmers' co-operating with the Government and of the manner of accomplishing the required organization. Great interest was shown, many questions were asked and short speeches favoring the general plan were made by prominent men.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Whereas, The plan devised by the Arid Land Reclamation Fund commission of Utah for the betterment of the water supply for Cache, Salt Lake and Utah counties appears to be a practicable one, calculated to be of great general advantage and directly beneficial to those individuals and communities whose lands are so situated as to receive through it a sufficient water supply; and

"Whereas, The people of this neighborhood are among those whose lands are now insufficiently supplied with water and can only be provided with the required quantity through the means contemplated in the plans of the commission; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we approve the action of the commission in preparing said plans and submitting them to the Secretary of the Interior for approval as part of the great reclamation work contemplated by the National Irrigation law, and that we favor such further co-ordinate action by the Utah commission and the United States reclamation service as will result in the full development and early consummation of the entire project."

HIS MISSION IS TO STUDY IRRIGATION

Prof. W. R. Thomas of Fort Collins, Colo., Represents the Department of Agriculture.

AMONG the guests at the Kenyon is W. R. Thomas of Fort Collins, Colo., professor of history in the Agricultural college at that place. Prof. Thomas is in Salt Lake on a special mission for the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., to confer with the State engineer on the relations of his office to the development of irrigation throughout the State. He will make similar visits to the engineers of all the Pacific coast States.

As Utah is the home of irrigation and the oldest State to adopt such work, Prof. Thomas is particularly studying the conditions of local affairs and finds much to interest him in this immediate vicinity.

It is interesting to note that prior to his taking up educational work in the Colorado Agricultural college he was the oldest man in harness, among Denver's newspaper writers, and for years held important editorial positions on the daily paper of that city.

He is on vacation at present and is taking up this special work for the department during the summer. He will be here a day or two.

VISITOR RECOVERS

FROM HIS ILLNESS

S. Molyneux Worthington of London appeared on the streets for the first time since his recovery at a local hospital, where for days he hovered between life and death, suffering from one of the most severe cases of pneumonia known to the physicians in charge. Mr. Worthington arrived here about a month ago and in a day was stricken and sent to the hospital. Having some English friends and meeting some others during the first day of his visit, he was well cared for, and is now as well as can be. He is a baritone of note and came here to make his home.

WHO SHOT FRANK YOUNG?

Efforts Being Made to Solve Mystery.

Mrs. Patterson, Former Actress, Is Held to Answer for the Killing.

Some Light on Tragedy Contained in Affidavit of Brother of the Dead Man.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Proceedings were begun today by Coroner Nicholas Brown in an endeavor to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Frank T. Young, the wealthy bookmaker who was shot on Saturday last while on his way in a cab to a steamship pier to sail for Europe with his wife.

Much mystery was made of a witness who, it was said, would be produced at the inquest and whose testimony would go far to clear up the case.

The father and brother of Mrs. Patterson, who came here from Washington, called at the Criminal court building today. Beyond expressing their belief in her innocence, they declined to discuss the case. Abraham Levy, Mrs. Patterson's counsel, said today that his client would undoubtedly be liberated after the hearing. "Everything points to the fact that Mr. Young shot himself," Mr. Levy said, "and I am satisfied that the Coroner and all other unprejudiced persons will think so after the evidence has been heard. We shall insist that there be no delay in the hearing today, for it is our intention to get our client out of the Tombs as soon as possible."

May Have Been Self-Murder.

The Coroner's physician, who performed the autopsy on Young's body, said today that he saw no reason why the bullet wound that caused the man's death could not have been self-inflicted, especially if the trigger had been pulled with the thumb. Pieces of epidermis removed from two fingers of the right hand of the dead man for close inspection were perforated with powder, although it was not clearly evident, from a hasty inspection, that the marks were really made by powder.

The hearing was postponed by the Coroner and Mrs. Patterson's bail was fixed at $5000. Adjournment was opposed by Mrs. Patterson's counsel, but after a long argument the Coroner decided to put the case over until Friday.

Mr. Garvan held that $10,000 should be the minimum bail required, saying: "If this woman is guilty of any crime at all, she is guilty of murder in the first degree." Coroner Brown then announced that he would adjourn the case until Friday and fixed bail at $5000.

Prisoner Committed.

District Attorney Jerome later declared that he would oppose the release of Mrs. Patterson on bail. He went to the office of Coroner Brown and served notice that in the event of a bondsman appearing with bail he would want to be heard in opposition to its acceptance. "This is a case," said he, "in which the Coroner has no right to accept bail. I shall oppose the release of this woman, no matter what amount of bail is offered." She was removed to the Tombs.

Important Information.

It transpired that this action by Mr. Jerome was due to the fact that he has in his possession an affidavit of William Luce, a brother-in-law of Young, in which Luce declares that on Friday evening Young told him that he was going out to see Mrs. Patterson. "He asked me to go with him," the affidavit says, "saying, 'The little woman has some letters which I must get from her. I'm afraid of her, and I do not know but what she might kill me. I'm through with her. I intend to break it off tonight.'"

SAN FRANCISCO VISITOR

TELLS OF DERAILED CARS

Charles Steinfeld, a well known business man of San Francisco, accompanied by his daughter, visited Salt Lake Sunday and yesterday, on his way to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis. Mr. Steinfeld had quite a trying trip on his journey through Nevada. He says that at Wadsworth the Pullman in which he and his daughter had taken passage, and the sleeping car adjoining his were derailed. Spreading rails caused the derailment. No one was injured, but the occupants were severely shaken and frightened, and were delayed nearly ten hours by the accident.

Mr. Steinfeld is warm in his praise of Salt Lake City, which he regards as a very handsome as well as progressive municipality.

DETAINED PENDING

A SANITY HEARING

"They're after me!" declared Millie Reid, a woman 37 years old, to the police force yesterday morning about 5 o'clock.

Just who or what was after her she was unable to explain, but she said the unlimited pursuit had so worn on her nerves that she could not sleep. She had been to all the rooming-houses in town, but wherever she went "they" kept after her. When she had repeated this story to several officers Patrolman Barlow took her to the station. Her mind is believed to be affected from the use of morphine or some other drug, and there will probably be an inquiry as to her sanity.
